

A Day Golfing in Bend

OverView

With more than two dozen golf courses in the surrounding area, many of them championship courses built by legends of the game, you could literally spend weeks here hitting the links. Luckily as an expert in the local links, I can help craft and customize any itinerary and create an inspired, lasting visit, unlike any other golfing event you have ever had before. On and off the course, you will experience a true variety of golf, leisure, luxury, and outdoor adventure.

1. Start Your Day: Sparrow Bakery

A unique bakery and breakfast spot with homemade delectable items to get you charged up for your game. If you are in a hurry, just grab it and go, if you have time, sit and enjoy a meal.

2. The first 18: Lost Tracks

Lost Tracks is an amazing course, an interesting and at times tricky layout. Amazing views abound and some mysteries as you discover why it is called "Lost Tracks".

3. Mid Day Eats: Parilla Grill

Dubbed the best Mexican food in Bend, fill up on the globally inspired items and get ready for your second 18. You can't go wrong with the tacos!

4. The second 18: Widgi Creek

Widgi holds a special place for most central Oregon golfers. While not as glamorous as some of the featured courses in the area, it is always a challenge and really gets you a feel for golfing in the mountainous part of the high-desert.

5. Time to dine: Deschutes Brewery

Gary fish established Deschutes Brewery & Public House in 1988 in downtown Bend. The original pub house is still intact, now with an addition to support the popularity. Surprisingly local feel and amazing food, beer and service.

6. Late Night Fun: McMenamins

If you can still stay awake after 36 holes then visit McMenamins. If you want a unique experience, perhaps take a dip in their soaking pool to heal the legs for your next adventure.
